

SCOUT WEEK

A PROCLAMATION

By His Honor PAUL M. GODDARD

Mayor
February 8, 1947, is the 37th anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America which was chartered by the Congress of the United States. This organization now has an active enrollment of 1,980,000, and has affected the lives of 13,500,000 American boys and men since its original organization.

Scouting has made an incalculable contribution to civic enterprise throughout our nation by building young Americans into self-reliant and responsible citizens. Scouting works for the attainment of world peace, and its anniversary slogan is "Scouts of the World—Building for Tomorrow". Thus, Scouting is giving practical assistance to brother Boy Scouts overseas in helping them to rebuild their organizations.

The week of February 7th to 13th has been designated as Boy Scout Week in Newton, and throughout the United States. We urge our citizens to recognize the unselfish service of its leaders, and to do everything possible to help the entire Scout Organization promote this outstanding program among our

Thomas A. Edison

It is a good thing to remember that the wonderful electric development which the United States has enjoyed, and where electricity is in more universal use than any place in the world, was brought about by the courage and initiative of individuals.

In recognition of one man who did more to provide electric service for the world than any other, the Thomas A. Edison Centennial will be celebrated throughout the country February 11, by electric power companies, professional societies, electric leagues, and other business, civic, and educational organizations.

It is no exaggeration to say that Thomas Edison made po sible more appliances to lighten work and provide amusement than any other individual. After Edison conceived an invention, industry pioneered the way in making its use practical and eco-nomical for the average citizen. It would be impossible to estimate the benefits flowing to mankind as a result of Edison's imagination. The ramifications of the use of electricity after his perfection of the incandescent lamp in 1879 are too varied to

The Edison Centennial is a fitting tribute to the man who made electric service for the world possible. By the same token, it reflects credit on the individuals and companies who provide electric service at a cost within the reach of every pocketbook.

The record of Edison's achievement is a testimonial of what the United States stands for-opportunity-no limit on the exercise of talent and initiative.

When you turn an electric switch on February 11, play your phonograph, see a motion picture, or enjoy any one of the countless uses of electricity, pause a moment and think of Thomas Edison, a typical American who made these things possible.

Example of International Cooperation

The sun never sets on the Boy Scout nor on his "Good Turn" and cheerful smile. Organized in 51 nations around the world, Scouting today has nearly four and a half million boys and leaders on its membership rolls,

Here in Newton, the Quinobequin, Sachem, Squanto and Viking Districts of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, 1769 Scouts and Cub Scouts, and 494 Adult Leaders, carry on our city's part in a world wide movement. Long ago, they and their predecessors earned the support the community so gladly gives them. The Boy Scout Movement has been adjudged one of the strongest of factors in the promotion of world peace. Its great influence in International friendship and good will has been constantly furthered by Scout Jamborees, visits and correspondence across the seas. In more recent years it has seen examples of world wide helpfulness. For instance, the Boy Scouts of America, which marks its 37th anniversary during Boy Scout Week, February 7 to 13, has a World Friendship Fund of voluntary gifts by its Thus far over $110,000 has gone to help Boy Scouts in 32 nations overseas rebuild their Units,

These international aspects of the Boy Scouts are worth examining. The Scout Oath and Law, with slight variations in different countries, are known the world around. Scouting has promoted international goodwill and friendship by emphasizing those points which nations have in common, not their differences. The Scout program is based upon activities that are fundamental to boyhood in all lands. In the attractions of camping and the outdoor life they all, as we might say, speak the

How to "Pay by Check" Without a Bank Account

Yes, it's true! Anyone can use our Register Check service and enjoy the convenience and economy of paying bills this modern way. There's no formality involved; Register Checks are made out and signed by you. Simply fill in the amount you wish, then take your check to the bank teller to complete. You retain the stub for your records. The whole transaction takes but a minute - saves you time and trouble.

At slight additional expense you may have your name printed on each check. For remittances not exceeding ten dollars you may want to use the new postal notes, unless-like many people-you prefer the prestige of signing your own checks. For all larger amounts our register checks cost less than postal money orders. Next time you have bills to pay or money to send, use personal, businesslike Register Checks!

THE FIRST HUNDRED YEARS

This new month of February is especially significant because it marks the hundredth anniversary of the birth of an eminent American who gave light and electrical service to the world - Thomas Alva Edison, born February eleventh, in the year 1847.

A century ago mankind was unacquainted with the electric light, the generation and distribution of electricity, the motion picture, the phonograph, the electric railway, the storage battery and the thousand other things which Edison invented. During the hundred years since Edison's birth, we have come to look upon his creations as traditional, customary things, needful to our way of life.

Now we are about to embark on the second century of the Edison Era. We shall see new creations of science arise which will owe their very existence to Edison's earlier contributions. Science marches on, speeded along its course by Edison's manifold accomplishments and by the inspiration of his example.

For his many and varied gifts, humanity is forever in his debt. He strove without ceasing for the more abundant life. In his own words . . . "If I have spurred men to greater effort and if our work has widened the horizon of man's understanding even a little and given a measure of happiness in the world, I am content."

"Although Massachusetts ranks "Although Massachusetts ranks high in social awareness compared to the rest of the country, still most of the citizenry are relatively unaware of the social problems existing in their own communities." Dr. Thaddeus Krush, Sr. Physician at the Metropolitan State Hospital, said to a group of sixty people Tuesday (January 28th) who attended the Conference and Study Group Meeting of the Newton Community Council. Dr. Krush spoke on Council. Dr. Krush spoke on "Special Problems of Children".

"There should be a change in society's attitude toward the mentally ill," he said. "People should Speak on Russia

Dr. Krush defined psychosis as "a state of being in which the person is unable to integrate himself into society in a manner acceptable to society." This state is not brought about by the person himself so much as by his environment, although heredity does play its part. "Insecurity at home causes many behavior problems in 'children," he said, "tending to make them express themselves outside the home and often in destructive ways." On Monday evening, February 3, the Davis School Parents Teachers Association, brand new though fully fledged, stepped confidently into line with other forward looking civic groups in launching a program of advancement and service.

Emphasizing the widening responsibilities of school and dehurch as vital community focal points, beyond the established educational and religious functions, and their interdependence, the president and other officers of the executive board who comprised the panel for a forum president and other officers of the executive board who comprised the panel for a forum urged active membership in the new Association as opportunity for service as well as parental interest.

As a large group gathered and assumed active part in the meeting, it was obvious that here was no perfunctory attendance of dutiful parents but a vigorous response of more than 160 interested citizens eager to share a new venture. That same note of alertness persisted through out the evening, in the discussions following the forum, in the suggestions from the floor, and in the small informal groups later. Many who had hoped and planned and worked for months for the success of the project took great encouragement from such heartening reaction.

Then, afterwards, as little social groups gathered for coffee.

Savings Banks to Offer Family Income Benefits

New Savings Bank Life Insurance Policies Provide Extra Monthly Income

Savings Banks in Massachusetts are now offering for the first time, extra family income benefits, it is announced by Clyde S. Casady, executive vice predident of the Savings Bank Life Insurance Council.

The new policies are issued in units combining $1000 of straight life insurance with sufficient decreasing term insurance to provide that in the event of death vide that in the event of death within twenty years after purchase, the bank will pay the beneficiary an income of $10 a month until the expiration of the twenty year period from date of the policy either in a lump sum or in installments. These family income benefits may be burchased by men at ages from 20 through 50, in amounts providing from $10 to $125 monthly income.

Observing that, in most families the greatest need for life insurance protection is while child-ren are growing up, Mr. Casady

"In these days of high living costs and heavy taxes, many men cannot afford to purchase an amount of insurance which would produce enough income to keep their families from want. But, through Savings Bank Life Insurance policies with the new family income benefits, it is now possible to provide, at compar-atively low cost, an adequate amount of assured income dur-ing the critical twenty-year period when children are growing

Mr. Casady pointed out that the new family income benefits could provide an important ad-dition to the incomes of families, entitled to "survivors benefits" under the Social Security Act, and would be of still greater value to families not covered by Social Security. Expressing the opinion that the new policies will meet a widespread need under present conditions, Mr. Caasady said:

Have We Outgrown the Sabbath?

A Sermon by The Rev. Randolph S. Merrill Text: Remember the Sabbath Day, To Keep It Holy.—Exodus 20:8

The fourth of the Ten Commandments seems to many that you do not need to go to church, what about your responmandments seems to many people completely outmoded to-day, and they are not all irreligious unbelievers either. Many of them base their judgment on their understanding of New Testament teachings. "Religion," they say, " is not a matter of special forms, ceremonies and times. It is a matter of the spirit in which you live with God and with your fellow men, and a matter for every day. Jesus himself, rebuking the old legalism, said, "The sabbath is made for man, and not man for the sabbath."

The observance of the seventh day was regarded by the Hebrew prophets, as well as the lawmakers, as of prime importance.

prophets, as well as the lawmakers, as of prime importance. They recognized in it "one of the major instruments of cultural survival. When Jerusalem fell, in 586 B.C., and the leaders," their temple having been wan-tonly destroyed, were taken to Babylon in captivity, their chance of survival" as a distinct culture "was slight." Observ-ance of the Sabbath saved them. "Once each week the people stood up to be counted in their alien environment and the faithful were strengthened." The reading of the moral law kept fresh the remembrance of their unique inheritance of faith and principles. "The institution of Sabbath congregational wor-ship saved a precious heritage ship saved a precious from extinction." (I quote "Foundations for Recons tion" by Elton Trueblood.) All very well, but have w outgrown that ancient of Reconstruc-outgrown that ancient observ-ance? No, we most certainly have not. Though the reaction from the unedifying restrictions that made Sunday an unwelcome day for many active boys and girls years ago is, in the main, good, we need to beware of throwing away the day's great spiritual and moral value. With-out discussing in this limited out discussing in this limited space what practices are right or wrong for Sunday, and strong-ly repudiating the idea that you may do whatever you want on Sunday provided you go to church, let us not lose the fact that the primary use of the day by Christian people is for gathering together to worship God with praise and thanksgiving, to read the Bible, to offer prayer, to hear the gospel interpreted and applied. Although Christian principles have affected our society to a considerable extent, we are all exposed to forces which are uninfluences and influences which are un-Christian or anti-Christian. Who among us is so good, so well established in Christian disci-pleship, that he has nothing more to learn from the church? There's not one of us that does not know what the minister was talking about. The words of the hymns were beyond my comprehension—but I loved to sing. I could not have put into words what I got out of the service, but something sent and probut something great and pre-cious I most certainly did get. Chiefly I got the impression— just soaked it up—that here was something which my father and mother and a lot of other good men and women thought was of such importance that they made it a "must" in their week's pro-

The church grew so rapidly that within one year an addition had to be made to the building. The present edifice on Walnut street church grew so rapidly that within one year an addition had to be made to the building. The present edifice on Walnut street was begun in 1894, finished and dedicated in 1895. Extensive improvements have been made through the years, notably in 1928, when a Romanesque chancel was built, and a social hall with a stage was created out of unfinished space in the basement; and again in 1939, when a second floor was built in the upper space of the chapel, providing a small assembly room and six class rooms.

But again, is the only question whether the children "get anything out of" the service? Too many decisions all along the institution of line of our social and religious gational worsecious heritage (I quote from till 1 quote from till 1 line of our social and religious duty are made on that basis—whether we get anything out of till 2 line of our boys and girls it: Shall not our boys and girls be given training in putting something into the church service—putting in their presence, their attention, their interest, their prayer, their singing? Children or adults, we get the most out of any concern where we put the most in.

"Man was not made for the Sabbath" we emphasize in our modern emancipation from ancient legalism. Jesus himself said so. He also said, "The sabbath was made for man"—and we do not use it for our good when we make it only a day of loafing, or of sports, or of automobile trips and picnics, of odd jobs or major toil, of commer-cial amusement — without any cial amusement — without any fellowship with others in worship. "Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is," urged the writer of the Epistle to the Hebrews for the strengthening of the believers. And it was Jesus who, "as his custom was, went into the synagogue on the Sabbath day." If anybody ever would be regarded as not needwould be regarded as not need ing the church of his day, it was Jesus; but his church had nour-ished his spirit, and he would do his part in helping it to nourish

Newton Junior Community Club Holds Fashion Show

The showing of the latest spring fashions for both women and children by the Newton Jun-ior Community Club at the Rebecca Pomroy House, Hovey street, Newton, Monday, Febru-ary 3rd, was attended by more than 100 persons.

Mrs. Nan Fuler, Manager of the Regent Shop, Newtonville was the commentator, and music was played by Miss Rachel Kourmian while the models displayed apparel, Mrs. Charles L. Murphy was in charge of the program.

The business meeting was conducted by Miss Rhoda White, president. A letter was read from the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross, requesting that the members of the club take over one Sunday a month to serve tea at the Cushing Hospital for veterans.

Announcement was made of plans for the auction by the New ton Federation of Women's Clubs on Saturday, March 8, at the Nor mandie room, Norumbega Park, Auburndale. The Junior Clubs have been requested to serve a home style baked bean supper.

Miss Rhoda White was appointed chairman of the committee.

Following the meeting and fashion show, a social hour was held. The table was decorated in red and white Valentine design, with a large heart-shaped floral centerpiece with long tappering candles. Mrs. Harold Haines was in charge of refreshments.

Hostesses were Mrs. Eloise Wilson, Mrs. Dorothy Garron, Mrs. George Haines, Miss Betty Brown, and Miss Annetta Willey.

Members of the club participation of the program "Quizzing the ed in the program "Quizzing the Wives" on Station WNAC, Wednesday, Feb. 5th. They were, Mrs. Joseph Teirney, Mrs. James Campbell, Mrs. Thomas Seeley,

Planning Board Urges Relocation Of Route 128

The NNewton Planning Board, in its latest report, reiterated its recommendation that the mayor and the Board of Aldermen take steps to have Route 128 relocated "so as to relieve our city streets from its tremendous traffic bur-den." Route 128 now extends through the city by way of Need-ham and Walnut streets.

The Chamber of Commerce and other organizations have fre-quently expressed similar senti-Kating Club ments, but the agitation for the change in Route 128 was tem-porarily stilled during the war. Now that such projects are again feasible, the sponsors of the move-ment have become active again in their efforts to bring about a change in the highway route.

As a substitute for the present course of Route 128 through New-ton the state has plans on file for the extension of the highway from its present junction with Route 9 at the Worcester Turn-poke along the Charles River near Quinobequin road, Newton Upper and Lower Fals, to Weston.

The Newtonville business dis-trict has been hardest hit by the heavy through traffic.

Speaking on the topic "A Banker Looks at 1947," Mr. Whittemore first developed the thought that the United States thought that the United States can forge ahead if each individual accepts his own responsibility as well as insists upon his rights. He made a strong plea that we keep clear of paternalism on the patr of the Federal government. Again and again he pointed out that from his point of view there was no reason for of view there was no reason for the wave of pessimism which seems to be sweeping the coun-try at this time. (The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper. - Editor's Note)

The Moriarty Case

have purposely refrained a commenting one way or ther on the ruction up on ton Hill in connection with Governor Bradford's failure to re-appoint the Cmmissioner of Labor and Industries, James T. Moriarty, whose term of office expired recently. It seemed best to watch and wait and see how the dramatic situation unfolded. The smoke of battle has now cleared away and it is possible to assess the probable effects of the unexpected Boyle appoint-ment. I say "unexpected" for the very good reason that nobody, including Mr. Boyle himself, seemed to have much advanced knowledge of the Governor's intentions. It has been suggested that the Governor himself did not plan to make this appoint-ment until the very last minute. Undoubtedly, he was surprised and shocked to get the reaction of so many citizens in protest over the dismissal of Moriarty.

Now, what were some of the irst and foremost, so far as your columnist is concerned, is the undisputed fact that labor Moriarty served as Commissioner, were extremely good, at least by comparison with most of the the position of Commissioner. We have the further fact that Senator Saltonstall is understood to have personally recommended to Governor Bradford that Moriarty be retained in office. In view of the well-known fact that Senator Saltonstall is considered anything but a cagy, smooth and selfish politician, it would appear that he must have had sound easons for urging the Governor of stand pat. What considerations, therefore, moved our Chief Executive to ignore the Senator's recommendation? I regret to state that I am not convinced that the question of age was the ruling consideration. We still have men in the state service who are close to seventy service who are close to seventy gests keeping in years of age or even older. Some of our best public servants, in cluding a number of judges, are around seventy and you can bet your bottom dollar that some of Former Mayor these men will still be holding their positions of trust at the end of Governor Bradford's first term as Governor. No, the age argument will NOT stand up.

The next most important argument is that Moriarty was more of a Commissioner of Labor of a Commissioner of Labor than he was of Industry. There may be a little truth in that argument. I have no doubt that the former Commissioner may have leaned over backwards in of the arguments between man-agement and labor. So what Would we not have had a similar

In that case however, you may be very sure that Mr. Gaunt would have leaned over so far to help man-agement that he would have fal-len down and broke his back. Of len down and broke his back. Of course, the ideal situation would be to have a representative of the general public serve in this position. In the days of General Sweetser that is precisely what happened. He was the first man to hold this office.

Third and last, if we are to judge from the amount of space devoted to this case, is the fact that Moriarty did his best to block the passage of the Barnes block the passage of the Barnes bills last year. Here again, is it not true that if a representative of management chanced to hold this post, and the forces of labor were strongly behind some bill which management considered inimical to its interests, would not the Commissioner favoring not the Commissioner favoring management do all he could to block what he was convinced was hostile legislation?

Rotary Club

The Newton Rotary Club ob-served the 37th anniversary of Boy Scout Week at their meet-ing on Monday at the Brae Burn Country Club when Scout Ex-ecutive Robert E. Pettit of Norumbega Council addressed the members explaining the organ-ization of the Scouting movement and its purposes showing how the movement provides worthwhile experience for boys from the age of 9 until they reach manhood, the Cub Scouts meeting the needs from ages 9 to 12, the Boy Scouts from 12 to 15 and the Soa Air and Evaluation 15 and the Sea, Air and Explorer

Scouts from 15 years of age on.
The Cub Scouts were represented at the meeting by Johnny Angier, the Boy Scouts by Conger Fawcett, and the Air Scouts by Albert Duckworth, who explained the activities of his group. Squadron One of the Air Scouts is sponsored by the Newton Rotary Club and Everett Pierce is liaison officer. Major John H. Taylor, Air School liaison officer of the U. S. Air Force, in charge of the New England District, spoke in support of this movement.

Pamphlets were distributed showing the particular activities of Norumbega Council.

Newton Chess Nuts Answer a Challenge

Seeking the Sword Invisible, All Americans and fortunes for many of us. 3) Paying the bills of Democracy in America—Democracy in America—Democracy in America—Democracy of which we have been so willing to kill and maim and deprive foreigners of their freedoms so that we at home (so the story runs) may 'worship God' in our own way, pursue Mammon in our own way, lynch negroes and elect Bilbos, Rankins and Talmages in our own way.

Just paying the bills of democracy in America calls for a degree of devotion from the few non-guzzlers and non-gamblers left that not all the churches, even if they preached the right things seven days a week, can accomplish very soon.

Boston Artist to Assist Segovia at Wellesley Concart

The Wellesley Concert Series is very hahhy to aannounce that four members of the Boston Society of Ancient Instruments, late Messrs. Fedorovsky, Bernard, Duquesne and Zighera, will be the assisting artists at the concert of Mr. Andres Segovia in Alumnae Hall, March 5. They will play, respectively, the descant viol, treble viol, violone and viola da gamba, which are the for-bears of thepresent string qua-tet, and will perform 16th, 17th and early 18th century music on the instruments of the time. In the instruments of the time. In asking Mr. Segovia's permission to include these assisting artists on his program, Mr. Barnett pointed out that the music on the ancient instruments would provide the proper introduction and setting for the famous guitarist's own exquisite artist-ry, since he performs lute music on the guitar. Mr. Segovia, a most charming and affable person as well as a great artist replied that he would enjoy sharing the program with this distinguished Boston Society, whose fame is widespread. fame is widespread.

Dr. Lafayette asked his audience Dr. Lafayette asked his audience to go back to the beginning of this country and analyze what made Washington so successful; what was it that made the new nation so successful? The answer, he felt, was Faith - faith in God, Country and self. It was this same faith that Lincoln possessed that carried him through misfortune and which he brought to the nation during the critical time of his term of office that saved the country. Said Dr. Lafayette, "It same faith that is needed men as they are, disregarding their race, creed or color, judging each solely on what he is, for whether he be Protestant, Catholic or Jew, if he lives up to his religion, he is dependable — it is the keeping of the three "faiths" that matters; faith in the advertisement of Chadwick Coal Yard which appeared on page one last only the world community but the world community as a sister."

God Does Open Doors

A Sermon by the Rev. H. Daniel Hawver

"And Jesus came, the doors being shut, and stood in their midst and said, Peace be unto you!"—St. John 20:19.

How often one hears the plaintive cry, "Every door to my fu-ture is closed to me; there is no ture is closed to me; there is no way out, my dilemma is complete"! The strange thing is not that it should be heard, but that it should be coming from the lips of a Christian. We expect it from those who live like pagans, but those whose lives have been nurtured by the Christian faith and centered in the church, that is a different thing. that is a different thing.

that is a different thing.
You may be one of millions who are saying that. Two men were talking in my presence the other week. Both were ex-service men and graduates of Harward University, and one of them was a lawyer. One said to the other, "What are you doing now that you are out of the service and back in civilian life?" To which came the response, "I'm trying my hand at law around here, and do not like it!" "Just what are you doing?" he asked.

But there is a job that none of of sixty Methodist churches. us can quit because we do not like it; it is this job of Life. None can have done with it, unless he is a coward, nor stand on the sidelines and look on, except the sidelines and look on, except he be a quitter, resolved to have in 1925, and in 1944 was given to the sidelines the going is the hoperary degree of Determent. where there is such a purpose Haverhill, Mass. and such a converging there are He is the President He is t doors through which one can pass, closed as they might seem to be at the moment. There are still approximate ly a million men in service over-seas, and many thousands in this country. The American Red Cross is continuing its work for these men in the same efficient and humanitarian man-ner that it did during the war. In many respects, this is more necessary than it was at the time of the actual fighting. In addition there are thousands of veterans in our hospitals who need the help that the Red

The Newton Red Cross has been assigned a quota of $54,000 in the 1947 Fund Campaign. According to Hon. John S. Newton's current quota has been reduced from the $90,000 requested last year. Reduchas been reduced from the $90,000 requested last year. Reductions in quotas are the result of a surplus accumulated by previous generous over-subscriptions of the American people.

In answer to questions as to how this money will be expended, Mr. Whittemore explained that seventy-five cents out of every dollar will go to work with the Armed Forces in camps and military installations, in service to veterans' hospitals and for veterans and their families. Politics With Color by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.-Editor's Note).

Many residents of Greater Boston have wondered for years just how long the general public would stand for the ridiculous situation surrounding the Boston Elevated Railway. It never did make any sense, and it makes less sense now to have a large group of stockholders guaranteed annual dividends of $5.00 a share every year quite regardless of whether or not the El operated in the red or in the black. Naturally the matter comes to a head when the El is apparently forced to default on bond interest owing to poor financial condition. What with the upshot be? Some what with the upsnot be? Some say public ownership, some say a fifteen cent fare and some have other solutions. Much will depend, presumably, on the attitude of the public after it has an opportunity to study the detailed report of the State Auditor. Mr. Ruckley, together with tor, Mr. Buckley, together with any recommendations he may make. Much depends, also, on what the Legislative Committees currently studying the entire problem from all angles may have to say. My own guess is that nothing sensational is apt to happen in the coming months.

My readers wil recall that this fancy dividend set-up was part of the Public Control Act of 1918, passed by the customary G. O. P ontrolled Legislature. If the general public had followed the pro-ceedings at that time, it seems likely that there might have been a general protest. My own memory does not help me, as I chanced to be serving in the U.S. Army at that time. The point is simply this. I cannot visualize the pres-ent Great and General Court, (the doggy name for our State Legislature) doing anything very startling about the Elevated setup. The Elevated management has command of some very smart brains and some equally smart legal talent. Although I do not like the word "lobby." it is doubtless true that the El has just as good a lobby at the State House as the insurance companies, the public utilities and other substartial business groups. It is exstartling about the Elevated set as the insurance companies, depublic utilities and other substantial business groups. It is exceedingly doubtful if a Democratic minority in the Legislature can prevail over a strong Republican majority, especially when the problem is so complex and so difficult to understand. There will be a tremendous amount of oratory, a vast amount of publicity, both for and against the poor El, and in the end, very little of major importance will have happened. Present indications are that there may be insuperable difficulties in shutting off the stockholders from their off the stock-holders from their customary share, and, barring THAT accomplishment, it is hard se how the El picture can be to se how the El picture can be improved very much, if any.

We must all remember one thing, however. Governor Bradford, in announcing his loan negotiations with the Bostou banks, miles.

stated emphatically that this was merely a shot in the arm and was in no way a solution of the critical problem confronting the Elevated. Let's wait a few weeks bereasonable guess as to the eventual outcome. The writer, for one, is inclined to believe that public ownership of the system is NOT in the cards.

Governor Bradford

I like our new Governor's at-titude very, very much, despite what has been construed by quite a few readers as a somewhat critical comment last week. You may recall that I had some rather frank observations to make con-cerning the dismissal of James T. Moriarty from the state service. It seemed to me that there were definitely two sides to this picture and that it was posisble that the Governor's judgment was in error. Well, I got an earwas in error. Well, I got an earfull over the phone. Curiously enough, at the same time a prominent lady politician was taking me for a ride because she thinks that I have praised the Governor too highly and am blind to his faults, which the lady aparently considers numerous. It is hard to satisfy everyone and I never try to. Your columnist will continue to call his shots, regardless of what anybody, high regardless of what anybody, high or low, has to offer by way of criticism.

The City Election

It is hard to stir up much excitement about the City election. citement about the City election.

I am still checking up on the situation as a whole, but one or two points can be made right now. First and foremost, it is NOT likely that Alderman Theodore R. Lockwood ill be confronted by any new and powerful opponent, unless some clever politicians pulls a fast one and porsynades some out-standing pointicians pulsa rase, one and persuades some out-standing dark-horse to enter the contest. Even so, the chances are that Alderman Lockwood, by that time, will have secured sufficient places of appropriate out him in a Alderman Lockwood, by that time, will have secured sufficient pledges of support to put him in a reasonably safe position. He has already tied up more individuals than most people realize. Furthermore, the list includes a lot of smart gentlemen with the necessary know-how, as well as a lot of good, substantial citizens who insist on explaining to me that they are "not politicians in any sense of the word." I can only say that my personal observation and experience has shown me that it is these same gentlemen who can do a tremendous job either for or against somebody who is seeking political preferment.

RENTS, RENT CONTROL

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET

A NEW SUPPLY OF RENTAL HOUSING UNITS IS THE UR-GENT NEED OF TODAY. Washington authorities have at last moved-if somewhat belatedly—to take some of the inequi-ties out of the rent situation by recognizing the plight of many landlords, and especially many of those who own and rent two. three and four apartment proper-ties. (Listen in Sunday, Febru-ary 23rd over WEEI at 12:15 FOR CHARLES J. ASHLEY'S NEWS ANALYSIS, who will discuss the situation).

Just how far this recognition of the landlord may go, and the largest Protestant Church in the nation's capital, will address more than 500 leading Methodist laymen of the Boston district on whether Federal rent control will be continued or the burden shift-ed to the States, is not clear yet, but it does seem to be an oppor that it does seem to be an oppor-tune time to make clear to the public in general, and tenants in particular, the situation as it ex-ists in the City of Newton. It has at all times been evi-dent that the control authorities

Dear Sir:
In response to your editorial appeal for constructive suggestions may I call your attention to the interlocking relationship between rents, rent control and the real estate market.

Control authorities, the real estate owners were subjected to violent attacks and were frequently attacks and selfish.

The truth of the matter is—and this is pointed out very earn and this is pointed out very earn and twis estiy by officers, committees and members of the Boston Real Estate Board—if the rental situation of real estate to apportion its deficit among the cities and towns, and thus lay this extra burden or real estate.

I agree with the Board in be-

There is plenty of money available, and materials are rapidly becoming obtainable, to start a substantial building program in the Newton area when once the uncertainty over adequate rental returns is removed. returns is removed.

We Realtors are doubly anxious to see the production of medium rental projects speeded up, for we have had thousands of applications and we know, and the pub-lic should be shown, that such production will be possible only when complete economic balance is restored to the whole real es tate and building market, and the reasonable adjustment of rents is a very important factor in restoring that balance.

On the matter of the continu ance of rent control the Boston Real Estate Board is on record as preferring the retention of Federal control (with amend

Your Money Goes Farther in the Tire That

Millions of test miles on police cars, taxi fleets and special test cars helped prove postwar B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns would outnear presuar tires. Today... as the above testimonials and many others are proving... in rough, tough, actual car owner use, the new Silvertown tire outnears presuar tires. If you want better than prewar tire mileage, come in today... equip your car with new Silvertowns... the best in the long run. And, for greatest economy, put in every tire you buy a new B. F. Goodrich tube... the tube that increases tire mileage and holds air many times longer.

There's more to Oil than meets the eye how Shell has broadened the uses of petroleum

Not just a hole "in the ground":

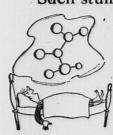

To some people, the petroleum industry is just gasoline and oil-pumped from a deep hole-sold at a service station. But petroleum, with 1,069 products made by Shell alone-is bigger than that...touches your life at many points ... and many times daily.

This kind of magic is "old hat":

Up-to-date "magic" is based on chemistry, physics, and allied sciences...with no silk hats or rabbits involved. Shell scientists perform extraordinary feats in their chosen fields - to "pull" useful, and even glamorous objects out of hid den molecules.

Such stuff as dreams are made on:

The Shell scientist creates his, and your, dream products with molecules of petroleum or natural gas. By shifting and rearranging their molecular structure, he creates new materials . . . replaces old and scarce materials . . . finds useful substances never before known

Paint and powder:

That suggests the range of products derived from "oil." Petroleum is in today's cosmetics-and in new lacquers and paints. It helps make up shimmering fabrics, artificial leathers, overshoes, inks, plywoods, safety glass, axe handles. The list is long-and the products of Shell Research find jobs in an equally long list of industries.

The farmer in the dell:

For the farmer, Shell Research has made available hundreds of products. Out of petroleum molecules come: Shell NH3, a potent soil enricher . . . hormones that hold fruit on trees to stretch picking schedules . . . and "D-D"*, a material to fumigate soil and kill underground enemies of plants.

Petroleum is "good medicine":

Quacks, years ago, prescribed "rock oil" as a cure-all for many ills. Their claims, today, would be justified . . . as scientists synthesize medical aids from petroleum. Shell scientists have helped develop: superior antiseptics, anaesthetics, sedatives . . . and even created a vitamin from "oil."

Burning the "midnight oil"

This wide range of products developed from petroleum molecules demands a varied lot of "specialists"-in hundreds of jobs-to put the new commodities in your hands. And as each product evolves from idea to reality, new jobs are created

What's ahead:

Past Shell history - with 7 products increased to 1,069 - indicates even greater growth ahead . . . with an "unlimited ceiling." Shell scientists work patiently and ceaselessly to arrange new combinations of molecules, which can be put to better use than the old ... or reduce waste ... or bring about revolutionary new products.

Yes, there's more to "oil" than meets the eye, and the industry - by constantly exploring new uses for petroleum-broadens its value to the community . . . to other industries . . . and to the ultimate consumer.

It was obvious that the audience went away with the feeling that the schooling of some of our public servants is a sound reason for the masterly grasp of the workings of this municipality, the fact that it has held an enviable record as to performance, and when the figures and facts are reviewed we have much to be grateful for. Politics With Color by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note).

Two prominent commentators let off steam concerning the senior U. S. Senator from Michigan, Hon. Arthur H. Vandenberg, in their radio broadctsts last Sunday. Both Drew Pearson and Walter Winchell seem interested in the Michigan Senator and his chances for winning the coveted Republican nomination for President in 1948. That shrinking vio-let, Walter Winchell, whose cordial regard for himself is ex-ceeded only by the power of his voice, suggested that Vandenwords, suggested that valuementers was being referred to in some quarters as the "Henry Wallace of the G.O.P." That, it occurred to Winchell, might well be helpful in securing the G.O.P. nomination for Senator Vandenters. berg. In this connection, it is also of interest to note the attitude of still another columnist whose work appears in this vicinity, namely, Thomas L. Stokes. This gentleman, who is rather critical of the Popublican party. critical of the Republican party and who is New Dealish, to put it mildly, actually groups Van denberg with Dendell Willkië and Harold Stassen as a liberal, internationally minded public servant. At the same time, servant. At the same time, stokes makes it clear that Sen-ator Taft of Ohio is still, funda-mentally, more or less of an iso-lationist and a staunch conserva-

All this is more than interesting. Do you remember when Senators Taft and Vandenberg were lumped together as power-ful conservatives and typical iso-lationists? It was only a few short years ago. Now, according Boston District Super.

This service, a cooperative undertaking of business and government, is in the form of a semble and party. Of course, it is publican party. Of course, it is pu stature while serving with Sen-ator Connolly of Texas as the President's bi-partisan team of international advisors. The fact remains, however, that he is probably less of a politician than Senator Taft and by no means as ambitious politically. ambitious pointically.

We now have a situation developing in which Vandenberg seems to be growing in public esteem and Tatt seems to be slipping. And that leads directly to my next paragraph.

Lilienthal Appointment One of the most intriguing de-elopments of the past few conths in Washington has been the increasing interest in the fate of David Lilienthal, who did an outstanding piece of work on the TVA. Regardless of whether or not he is confirmed by the U. S. Senate as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, the fact remains that his status to fact remains that his status to-day is responsible in large part for throwing new light on the G.O.P. Presidential situation. Senator Taft may or may not realize it, but it is a fact that his bitter and consistent opposi-tion to the Lilienthal appoint-ment and the response which he tion to the Lilienthal appointment and the reasons which he has frankly given for this opposition, help to reveal the real. Senator Taft to the nation as a whole. Your columnist's frank opinion is that this revelation will seriously hurt the Ohioan's chances for winning the G.O.P. nomination. Furthermore, as has been recently pointed out, Senator Taft cast several very sour votes in the U. S. Senate on national defense measures. This was either just before or soon after the United States became involved in world war two. And involved in world war two. And to that the attitude of this gentleman in connection with the trial of the Nazis at Nuremburg, of which he was highly critical, and you can readily see that Taft has a lot of fence-mending to do if he hopes to get very far in 1948.

If my readers get the impression that I am unduly prejudiced against the esteemed senior Senator from Ohio, may I say in closing that nobody appreciates his remarkable ability, great energy and complete integrity more than the writer. However, it is my very sincere belief that his nomination in 1948 would result nomination in 1948 would result in the defeat of the Republican ticket. Liberal Republicans and independent voters just will NOT go along with Taft. As our own Senator Lodge recently stated in to Drew Pearson and thousands ticket. Liberal Republicans and of others, the Michigan Senator has grown remarkably in stature and has assumed the proportions of a real statesman. Indeed, it is safe to say that he is currently G.O.P. was NOT returned to powths No. 1 testeamer in the No. 1 testeamer er in the 1946 elections for the purpose of turning back the hands of the clock and reverting or trying to revert to the old-fashioned normalcy of the Hard-ing and Coolidge days. The coun-try wants to go forward, on both national and international fronts. It wants less waste and extravagance and A GREAT DEAL LESS POLITICS. Our Senators and Congressmen will do well to remember that.

Hospitals vs. Airfields

A short time ago a plea was made in this column for greater interest in the work of our hospitals, including the mental hospitals. Readers of the Boston pitals. Readers of the Boston Herald have just seen an entire magazine section of the Sunday paper devoted to the needs of the Massachusetts General Hos-pital. Just prior to that, I noted an article in the paper about a proposed airfield in Newton, to say nothing of a great many other airfields in eastern Massachusetts.

Dear Sirs: During last week, my family received a letter asking for a contribution to help your cause. I read the letter, and I feel obligated to tell you that your efforts are misguided. It would much more practical to form organization, which would ilize the amount of money you intend to spend, to help the vet erans of this city solve their housing problems. In many municipalities it is unfortunately the case that a Taxpayer's Association is a militant organization actively antagonistic to every act and move of the administration. We in Newton are fortunate in always having had the unselfish services of able and respected citizens. The aim of our association is good government, efficiently and economically administered. We respect the character of our respect the character of our elected officials and are most happy to give cooperation when we see eye-to-eye. We reserve the right to offer constructive suggestions and to differ when policies seem to diverge.

An eight million dollar business is too large and complex for any citizen or groups of citizens to evaluate in minute detail and report thereon in a few days or weeks. Although the budget is themized to a certain extent there are voluminous details and comparative statistical and and comparative statistical and historical data unavailable to your board of directors. When our association is more firmly established and has a large membership assuring financial freedom of action it will be possible to pursue constant research. sible to pursue constant research maintain intimate contact with all branches of the city govern-ment, and to render the citizens a far more effective advisory service.

Faced with the increased costs of materials and wages we are not so naive as to proclaim our ability to show how taxes may be held to former levels. We cannot stem the powerful economic forces. We can however present certain questions for the tax-paying citizen to ponder.

(1) Cost of government is in direct ratio to service rendered. What present services do you wish curtailed or eliminated? inated?

(2) Cost of government is subject to the efficiency of departmental operation. From your observation wherein are manpower and materials inefficiency

Prior to examining the budget, many of your directors feared the establishing of permanent higher base salaries and wages. Middlesex & Boston Gets New Buses Ordered in 1943

The Middlesex & Boston Street Railway announces that the first of 22 new buses which they ordered in October 1943 are now being delivered at Waltham.

These buses, numbered 168 to 189 inclusive were built at the Brill plant of the American Car and Foundry Company. They are in three colors of maroon, cream and aluminum, and are lettered Middlesex and Boston St. Ry. instead of just M. & B. the war when immunization came almost to a standstill in those countries.

Dr. Pope described the organization of the State Health Department and some of its work. He discussed in some detail two or three of their outstanding problems during the past few years. One of the problems dealt with chronic and degenerative diseases which are becoming more prevalent as our population grows older. Previous to the passage of recent State legislation, he said, the indigent sick were placed in the State Infirmary and given only custodial care for the most part. Now the State is making provision for a new 800 bed hospital for these patients. 200 will be used for caneer patients and 600 for other chronic diseases. A series of sermons by Newton Ministers

"Facing The Future" A Sermon by The Rev. Hamilton M. Gifford

It's an exciting thing, when you come to think about it, to face the future. It's got all the thrill of the uncertaainty of the most exciting adventure in all the world, for nobody knows ex-actly what's ahead of him. You may know some things that in all probability will happen, but you can't know in detail just what's going to happen to you or to anybody else, and that very fact makes life interesting. Wouldn't it be terrible to know in advance everything that to take place? Suppose where everything Suppose you to take place? Suppose you knew everything with which you would have to contend in the days ahead,—every pain and ache,—hopelessly inescapable! That would be depressing—maybe more than you could bear. The good things in life would lose their glamor and their adventure and their worth on that basis. But life as it is, is full of meaning. It's challenging. of meaning. It's challenging. It's thrilling. Thank God, life "hides from us all the book of fate,—all but the page pre-scribed, the present date."

There are two ways to face the future: one with fear and trepidation, with terror and dread.—and the other with faith and hope, with courage and confidence. Nobody wants to face it the first way. Nobody has to face it that way. But the nas to face it that way. But the question is,—how are you going to get a healthy point of view of the future so that even when you get to be 80 you can say as Markham did: "I look to the future for wine and bread, I have bidden the past adieu. I laugh and lift hands to the years Come on! I am ready anead: Come on: I am ready for you."

Well, for one thing, you can remind yourself that just because you don't know what's out there ahead of you doesn't mean that it's going to be bad. I was talking with a fellow the other day who always takes a pessimistic view of the future. He says he got that philosophy says he got that philosophy from the army, and I can see how it's a natural result of the fear instinct. "We were always sure," said he, "that the worst was going to happen and, if it we accepted it as a matter of course because we had prepared our minds for it. On the other hand, if it didn't happen, then we were happy about it because it was just some good luck we hadn't figured on." there's something to be said for that, because if you go through life expecting everything to be sweet and lovely, you're in for some awful, disillusioning jolts. To always expect the worst, though, is a gloomy, unhappy way to look at life and it's far from being a realistic way,—because there's as much good in life as there is evil. In fact the good in the proper property than the good is more powerful than the evil and has a way of surviving, whereas evil can't stand the test of time. The world is set up in favor of good. So, you who imagine a big bad bear just around the correct powerful that the corner, remind yourself that the chances are just as great that there's nothing of the sort, but something good instead. That's not wishful thinking. That's a fact borne out in life.

The next thing to do is to remember the right things about the past. To look back and re-member the wrong things can do a pile of damage. Remember, r instance, the mean things mebody has done to you, dehole and bury them once and for all. One thing, though, you do want to remember; and that is: you're still here,—in spite of the fact that there were times in the past when you never thought you'd make it. If you survived all the things that seemed impossible last year and the years before, why not count on God to keep on giving you all the resources of strength you'll need for this year, too? "So long Thy power hath led me, sure it still be." power hath led me, sure it still will lead me on,—o'er moor and hath led me, sure it still be

Rev. Hamilton M. Gifford, pas-tor of the Newtonville Method-ist Church, was born in Amherst, Masachusetts, the son of Rev Masachusetts, the son of Rev.
Alliston B. Gifford, a minister of the New England Conference.
He was graduated from Winchester High School in 1919 and received the A.B. degree from Boston University in 1923. For the next six years he was in business in Boston after which he entered Boston University School of Theology for Seminary training, receiving the S.T.B. degree, magna cum laude, in 1931.

fen, o'er crag and torrent till the night is gone." That's the way to face the future. The third thing to do is to concentrate on today. "Now is my other name. Today my date. O traveller, tomorrow is too late." God. What you do today has a lot to and What you do today has a lot to say about what tomorrow has in store for you. You know that's true in every area of your life, mental, physical, spiritual and all the way along the line. You know it so well that it's almost a platitude and yet as you face the future it's well to remind yourself of that fact. Since, then, the past has irrevocably somebody has done to you, deliberately refuse to forgive AND FORGET and you're headed for trouble. You practically guarantee if. Pile up all your mistakes and failures, your troubles and dissapointments that you had last year and lug them around with you and you're bound to have tough going. There's only ore thing to do with memories like that, and that's dig a big hole and bury them once and for all. One thing, though, you do yourself of that fact. Since, then, the past has irrevocably gone and you are shaping the future right now, the only thing to do is to stop dragging out any red herring from the past and cut out borrowing a lot of trouble from the past

to do is to stop dragging out
and cut out borrowing a lot of trouble from the past
to do is to stop dragging out and reput the past has irrevocably formers.

The Methodists therefore purchased the tablished in the early spring of 1860, when certain persons having a strong desire for a church of their own faith, met at the home of Rev. George W. Mansfield and formally organized the society.

For some time previously the Methodists in this vicinity had held Class Meetings with the church at Watertown, but a craving for a church home of their own, near enough to en-able them to train their children in their own doctrines, led to the establishment of a church in Newtonville.

At first the church services were held in the Dexter Plano Rooms in the old Leavitt Block at the Walnut Street crossing. They rapidly outgrew these accommodations and moved acres the square to Tremont I all which they secured for "$175 per which they seemed annum."

The church membership increased steadily, many joining on profession of faith. Those who desired immersion were baptized in a small pond on the Claffin estate.

In 1861 the society moved to the chapel on Washington street, the chapel on Washington street, corner Central avenue, afterward occupied by the Congregationalists. On March 11th it was dedicated, and a new organ costing $450 was purchased.

The little Church prospered and the congregations grew so great that by 1863 larger accommodations became necessary. A Baptist sodety had begun the erection of a church but the panic of 1857 had compelled the abandonment of the project. In 1860, this property was bought abandonment of the project. In 1860, this property was bought by the Unitarians who completed the auditorium and for a time worshiped therein. However, partly because of the Civil War, they became desirous of dispos-

have your being." You can't live without Him and yet you can live without realizing that fact. The only thing is, it helps so much to be conscious of the fact that He's in this business of living along with you. He was here "before the mountains were brought forth or ever He had formed the earth and the world" and He'll be here The mind that conceived this life or ours, the power that created it, the goodness that makes the stars in their courses fight on the side of the things that are true and good,—God's life and power and love are here to uphold you and give you all the courage and wisdom you need to face the future. "I know not what the future. "I know not what the future hath of marvel or surprise, assured alone that life and death His mercy underlies." What is an 'oil man'?

At Shell it means 1152 different kinds of jobs

A wall, a tree, a rope:

Remember the blind Hindus who tried to describe an elephant by touch? One felt its side and said, "Like a wall." One felt a leg and said, "A tree." And the tail-toucher said, "A rope." Limited contact denied them the full picture. Most of ustouching the petroleum industry at just a few points-would find it hard to answer the question, "What is an

Truth is stranger:

To tell the full scope of jobs "in oil" would take a book-and then some. At Shell, an "oil man" may be a scientist-brilliant in his chosen work-a chemist, physicist, botanist, agricultural expert. Or in other types of work, he may be a cashier, a clerk, a statistician.

Any old bones?

Fascinating, among the "oil men" at Shell, are the paleontologists. These scientists, in their explorations for oil, frequently find as clues "old bones"fossil remains dating from the world's infancy. And seismologists work at Shell, studying artificial earthquakes to help locate new oil wells. Then, don't forget the geologists.

This "oil man" is a pretty girl:

That's right. Good jobs at Shell are not restricted to men. Key jobs in laboratories, writing, and in Shell's libraries are staffed with women . . . as well as the highly important secretarial positions.

Go as high as you like:

You'll find "oil men" who are pilots in Shell planes . . . from which they quickly inspect hundreds of miles of pipelines for leaks, or trace oil-bearing geological formations.... You'll find top executives who started their "oil careers" as clerks, roustabouts, or

A stitch in time:

The machinist is a highly trained specialist at Shell, working in the refineries on repairs . . . or designing new tools . . . and building new equipment. And with him are skilled mechanics, carpenters, pipefitters, blacksmiths, maintenance men-all experts in making things.

Painting "in oil":

You'd hardly expect it, but Shell employs dozens of artists and draftsmen. Men and women who illustrate instruction booklets. Make maps and blueprints, do any job where a drawing is needed. And along with them are writers, photographers, editors, who see to it that needed information is clearly presented.

You know this "oil man" best:

Yes, although thousands of employees fill 1152 different kinds of jobs in the Shell organization, the friendly, courteous, competent, service station operator is the "oil man" you meet most often. He's there to serve the motorist . . . the last link between a distant oil field

The wide range of activities in the petroleum industry offer ever-expanding job opportunities. At Shell, employees have an opportunity to work at the job they know best . . . can get ahead faster . . . have a better present . . . and a more secure future.
